About today's cover:

Today's cover features a detail of the window given in 1885 by George M. and Eliza Hippee. Designed by the Philadelphia firm of Groves & Stiel, the windows in the Nave are original to St. Paul's, and they reflect two artistic influences at the time: the Gothic Revival and the Aesthetic Movement.

The window is unique, since the composition treats the central area of the window as a unified pictorial space.
